Its clear design language and high-quality workmanship make it an elegant light source that not only impresses with its appearance, but also with its versatility. Thanks to the up-and-down lighting, ARCOLA emits light both downwards and upwards - ideal for illuminating the room evenly and atmospherically. Perfect for use above the dining table or in open-plan kitchens, where both functionality and atmospheric light are required. The integrated lift-me function enables flexible height adjustment of the luminaire, depending on requirements and room height. The switch dimmer allows the brightness to be conveniently adjusted using the wall switch. If you want to adjust the light colour, you can set it using the DIP switch on the luminaire - practical in households with changing requirements.
